Luxury Career Guide

Positioning, interviews, and negotiation for global careers

Positioning

Define your target market, title, and salary band before you start applying. A focused search outperforms a broad one in both response rate and final offer quality.

Interview Mastery

Prepare four to five STAR story blocks — conflict, ambiguity, failure recovery, leadership without authority, and a quality save — so every question maps to a proof point.

Negotiation

Anchor on total compensation, not base salary. Time your ask until after the offer, and always negotiate in writing with data to support your range.
